UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan plans to lay before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev an urgent appeal to break down barriers now preventing discussion of dangerous world problems.

Widening Of Rt. 611 Sought By Pocono Mt. Motor Club

WIDENING an resurfacing of the three-lane stretch of Route 611 from Stroudsburg north to Scotrun was recommended last night in a motion unanimously approved by the Pocono Mountains Motor Club.

The club, acting on a suggestion offered by its past president, R. LeRoy Dengler, noted that the highway was built during the Second World War, and was not reinforced due to the scarcity of steel. Heavy travel over the years has caused the road to become bumpy in many spots, especially where the sections of concrete are joined.

His main objection to the present condition of Route 611 dealt with safety rather than roughness, however. Dengler recalled that a number of fatal accidents had occurred on the three-lane stretch since it was opened to traffic and said widening of the entire 10 miles to four lanes would contribute greatly to the prevention of head-on and other violent collisions.

Principal Artery

Dengler acknowledged that the state plans to build a limited-access highway parallel to Route 611 from the northern terminus of the Stroudsburg Thruway to Bartonsville and eventually to Crescent Lake.

He declared, however, that Route 611 will continue to be used as a principal artery for local and other traffic and therefore should be improved immediately.

The motor club had offered a similar proposal some years ago in conversations with State Highway Department officials. The idea was revived by Dengler as a direct result of an accident this week which claimed the life of a motorist on the three-lane highway near Scotrun.

Congo Letter Tells How To Use Friends For Power

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The Congo government commissioners made a public Wednesday an intimate letter from Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah advising "my dear Patrice" Lumumba how to manipulate enemies and friends to regain and hold power over the Congo.

They handed out also copies of

Can't Provide Better Roads

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Park H. Martin, state highways secretary, said Wednesday Pennsylvanians "are getting a great deal for the gasoline tax money they pay" and described as misleading oil industry publicity about high taxes.

"One thing is certain," Martin told the Philadelphia Rotary Club, "they (the people) won't get more and better roads by paying less."

He added that the need for more and better highways greatly exceeds money now available.

Martin didn't specify the source of what he considers adverse publicity, but there have been numerous advertisements recently, citing the large bite that goes for state and federal taxes from the price of every gallon of gasoline.

Name Easton Man Director

HARRISBURG (AP) — Samuel Sackman, Easton, Wednesday was appointed northeast regional director of the State Labor and Industry Department's Bureau of Mediation, effective Oct. 5.

Sackman, who has been with the bureau as a mediator since June 25, 1959, will receive an annual salary of $9,011 in his new post.

authoritative sources reported Wednesday.

Macmillan, playing a key role in Western strategy, addresses the U.N. General Assembly Thursday in advance of a face-to-face meeting with the Soviet leader. The informants said his aim is to salvage something from this historic 15th session and prevent it from ending in disastrous diplomatic failure.

Furious diplomatic activity preceding his appearance indicated it will mark a critical juncture in the debate.

Macmillan's speech, the informants said, will be pitched to a low key. He will follow lines similar to those presented by President Eisenhower a week ago and indicate to the 96-member world organization that the West is keeping an open mind on approaches to such urgent issues as disarmament and nuclear weapons control.

But the British leader will present forcefully points like these:

1. The West is willing to discuss and explore any avenues toward a common ground for approaching the problem of disarmament.

2. Britain and the West are unalterably opposed to Khrushchev's terms for expanding the existing but practically defunct 10-nation Disarmament Committee. Khrushchev wants five "neutral" nations added to the five Western and five Communist nations on the committee. The West considers such a ratio unrepresentative.

3. The West is unalterably opposed to any plan to tamper with the peacemaking machinery of the United Nations or the secretary-general's office. Khrushchev has said he will not discuss disarmament until some consideration is given to his proposal to abolish the secretary-general's office.

4. Britain has no intention of occupying the role of "conciliator" or "mediator" between the Soviet Union and the United States, or between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower. In a word, the United Nations—and the Soviet Union—will be given to understand that the Western front will hold firm.

Assembly delegates largely marked time, waiting for developments in the major contest between East and West. A sparsely attended plenary meeting listened to routine speeches of delegation leaders in the general policy debate.

Col. Mobutu, 29, has demanded immediate withdrawal of Ghana troops from the U.N. Congo force.

The Congo strongman has charged that both Ghana and Guinea favored the Communist-backed Lumumba in the Congo's power struggle.

The letter made public Wednesday advised "My dear Patrice" that "the policy to do away with your enemies now will fail. You must adopt 'tactical action.'"

The letter went on to say that tactical action meant that Lumumba should play along with his political enemies, including Kasavubu, for the present to avoid trouble and consolidate his position.

The letter advised Lumumba to "be as cool as a cucumber and consolidate your position. Work with your bitterest political enemies (for the present)."

Lumumba was also advised to work with the U.N. forces now in the Congo because "with the United Nations gone you will not be able to cope with the situation. Act quickly to establish your administration. Get hold of the United Nations and control it, my dear Patrice."

"Brother, mark my advice," the letter said. "We have been in the game for some time now and know how to handle the imperialists and the colonialists. The only colonialist or imperialist that I trust is a dead one."

Nixon Woos N.Y. Vote

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon swirled Wednesday through miles of metropolitan New York—and through crowds ranging from sparse to sizable—in a bid for the Empire State's many votes for the presidency.

The Republican nominee for the White House drew only skimpy crowds in the streets and at several speaking stops in Queens Borough across the East River from Manhattan. Gloom wreathed the faces of his official party. The sky was overcast.

But they could smile a bit when thousands showed up to cheer and wave the vice president along Jamaica streets and those in Nassau County. At several places in Nassau, flag-waving school children led the surging crowds that blocked Nixon's campaign caravan.

And thousands of persons turned out in front of the Nassau County Courthouse in Mineola in mid-afternoon to roar the biggest greeting of the day. The courthouse is the seat of a Republican county government. Sheriff Jesse P. Combs estimated the crowd at 15,000.

Nixon was putting plenty of effort and lung power into his first pass at New York State's 45 electoral votes.

With New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hovering at his elbow, the vice president put on a many-sided pitch to a many-sided city and its Long Island overflow.

He even gave a hint of sorts that he would bring brainy Democrats into his administration, if he has one. He didn't exempt the Cabinet.

"America cannot afford to less than use the best we have," is the way he put it. "I think that means the best regardless of which party they belong to. We must have the best brains of both parties. We must also enlist the best women in positions they are able to fill."

In an area where migrations to the suburbs are raising crucial problems now and for the future, the vice president came up with a seven-point program of federal assistance. It offered a measure of federal financing but more of government guidance and cooperation—"to maximize private investment through action."

The program was packaged in some 2,500 words of manuscript prepared for use at Forest Hills at noon. But the vice president simply skimmed through its general outline. He skipped completely such things as telling what he might do to help lower interest rates on home financing.

U.S. Economy Outlook Appears Favorable

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is pictured by Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson as approaching the end of an economic adjustment of the type usually associated with recessions.

In an important policy speech Wednesday at the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund, Anderson said: "The adjustments that our economy has undergone this year provide the base for a long period of sustainable, noninflationary growth."

The secretary's economic forecast came as some economists professed to see signs of an approaching recession in the spotty business record of recent months.

Latest Forecast

Anderson, a conservative in money matters, is no economist. However, his stock as a business prophet rose early in 1958 when he correctly predicted the end of that year's recession.

Before venturing his latest forecast, Anderson checked signals at a top-level White House meeting. He discussed his speech at length last week with President Eisenhower, Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, and Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisors.

Newsweek magazine said in its current issue that during that meeting Eisenhower received a confidential report from the Commerce Department indicating the gross national product may fall in the third quarter to a level between $500 billion and $502 billion. The second quarter figure was $505 billion.

The gross national product—representing the output of the nation's factories, mills and mines—is regarded as a key indicator of economic health.

According to Newsweek, the White House conferees were disturbed by other signs of economic weakness, including a decrease in consumer plans to buy such major items as automobiles, lack of prospects for a significant pickup in steel, and a drop in profits.

In his speech to the monetary fund, Anderson said: "It is my strong view that the outlook for economic activity in this country is favorable, both for the near future and for many years ahead."

He said a sharp reduction in business spending for inventories has caused most of the recent slack in the economy. This reduction stemmed, he contended, from a realization that inflation has been locked and there is no need to stockpile goods as a hedge against shortages or higher prices.

Anderson indicated he believes a full-fledged recession has been averted because of heavy spending by consumers who are earning record incomes.

Kentucky Man Is Killed At Tobyhanna Crossing

WILLIAM HORTON, 42, of Lexington, Ky., was fatally injured last night at 9:40 p.m. when the car he was driving crashed into a train of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad that had stopped on the crossing in the village of Tobyhanna to load U. S. Mail in the baggage car.

Horton was dead on arrival at the Hahnemann Hospital, Scranton, where he was taken by ambulance.

Horton, who was traveling south on Route 490, apparently saw the flashing lights of the safety signals at the crossing too late and swung his car to the left, missing the gate, and smashed into the baggage car of the train.

The victim was regional maintenance superintendent of the U. S. Army Signal Depot in Lexington, Ky. He had been in the area attending a radio school at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

Claude Quick, a Tobyhanna mail carrier, said, "I was loading mail on the train and heard the crash. I thought the train had started—until I looked under the train and saw a hub cap from a car."

Horton was traveling alone in the car at the time of the accident.

This was the third fatal accident in Monroe County in the past six days and was the second involving a car and train.

Kennedy Blasts GOP Opponent

By STERLING GREEN

WITH KENNEDY IN NEW YORK STATE (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy hammered Wednesday at his Republican rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, as "a man who led the opposition to medical care for the aged."

Invading upstate New York at the start of his drive to win New York's crucial 45 electoral votes for the presidency, Kennedy came out slugging at his GOP rival in an address to a meeting of "senior citizens" in Buffalo.

Nixon not only led the opposition, Kennedy declared, but he was ready to carry on that opposition when picked by the Republican National Convention to head its ticket.

"In 1935, the Republicans failed to block progress," in connection with social security, the Democratic presidential nominee said in his speech.

"This year they succeeded in destroying the hopes of Americans over the age of 65 for relief from the crushing burden of medical bills and for the opportunity to fully care for their health."

Instead of a program for medical care under the Social Security system, Kennedy said, the Republicans substituted a bill "which will cost the American taxpayer over a billion dollars a year, is impossible to administer, which will not even be put into effect in many of our states, which has been rejected by the governor of New York, and which will fail to bring relief where it does go into effect."

Kennedy said the lesson for older citizens was clear: "Only with a Democratic president in the White House, can we hope to bring help to poverty-stricken older Americans."

Earlier, Kennedy addressed other gatherings on the Niagara frontier, where layoffs in steel, aircraft and other industries have left thousands jobless.

"We will re-pass, and I would sign, the depressed-area bill, twice vetoed by the Republicans," the Massachusetts senator said to a throng at Lockport. The measure provides for channeling of defense work into depressed areas.

At the Bell aircraft plant near Niagara Falls, where the payroll has dropped from 16,000 to 3,000 for lack of defense work, Kennedy was greeted by the whole work force in the plant yards.

Kennedy's day took him first across the Niagara frontier area by motor, then on an airplane sweep to Rochester, Buffalo and Albany.

Tax Agents Stage 65 Raids Across Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service agents across the nation Wednesday staged a series of raids aimed at suspected bookmakers, lottery operators and other gamblers.

Agents from the tax agency, co-operating with local authorities, swooped down on 65 locations in 40 cities in 22 states.

First reports indicated about 75 arrests were made. More were expected as additional reports came into revenue service headquarters.

A spokesman for the IRS said such raids are conducted periodically. The last crackdown was in April.

The crackdown—described as "Operation Cedar"—by one IRS officer—was ordered under the federal gambling stamp law.

That law does not authorize gambling. The stamp merely shows payment of $50 into the U.S. Treasury. The law also provides for payment as taxes of 10 per cent of the gross business of any gambling operation.

Hit Restaurant

One of the raids, in which gambling machines were confiscated, was conducted in a restaurant at Charlotte, N.C. Patrons were told to finish their meals while the raid was in progress.

Federal agents aided by local police also cracked down on two alleged gambling establishments in St. Louis.

In the Boston area the "T-men" aided by deputy U.S. marshals hit establishments in Lawrence, Lowell and Greater Boston. They said large quantities of betting paraphernalia were seized.

The aim of the raids was to find gamblers who were violating federal law by failing to buy the gambling tax stamp.

Operating a gambling business without the stamp can mean a five-year prison term and a $10,000 fine.

Other cities in which raids were conducted Wednesday were New York, Syracuse and Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Frankfurt, Ky.; Nashville, Tenn.; Bridgeport, New Haven and Stamford, Conn.; Pittsburgh and McKeesport, Pa.; Chicago; Detroit and River Rouge, Mich.; San Francisco; Cleveland and Akron, Ohio; Charleston, W. Va.; as well as a number of smaller cities.

AFL-CIO Okays Democrats

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Executive Committee of the State AFL-CIO officially endorsed the national and state Democratic candidates Wednesday and urged the union's two million members to give their support.

"We recognize that mere endorsement is far less than is needed for election," the committee said in a statement, "therefore, we urge our membership and their unions to pledge their efforts and energy to the election of (Democratic presidential nominee) John F. Kennedy and (vice presidential nominee) Lyndon B. Johnson."

The statement was issued by co-president Harry Boyer, Reading, and Joseph F. Burke, Philadelphia, after the first meeting of the 20-member committee since the merger of the two labor organizations.

The labor leaders said endorsement of candidates for Congress and for the state Legislature would be made soon at the local level.

Besides Kennedy and Johnson, the group endorsed these Democrats: Judge Gerald F. Flood, candidate for the State Superior Court; Thomas J. Minehart, candidate for auditor general; and Grace M. Sloan, candidate for state treasurer.

Retirement Rumors Denied By Rhodes

PRESIDENT Judge Chester H. Rhodes of Pennsylvania Superior Court last night described as "manufactured" a story in the Philadelphia Inquirer's Thursday issues which said he will retire after the November election.

Judge Rhodes, who resides at 706 Monroe St., Stroudsburg, told The Daily Record he "has no such plans at all."

Judge Rhodes said he talked to Joseph Miller, author of the story, on the telephone yesterday afternoon and told him the same thing.

The jurist was commissioned president judge of the state's high court on March 1, 1947.

Gouldsboro Native

A native of Gouldsboro, he attended Muhlenberg College and received his bachelor's and master's degree from Lehigh University.

Judge Chester H. Rhodes

He was admitted to the Monroe County Bar on Oct. 4, 1913; served as Monroe County solicitor from 1918 to 1920 and was elected district attorney in 1919, a post he resigned when he was elected to the State House of Representatives in 1922.

He was reelected to the House in 1924, 1926, 1930 and 1932. In November, 1934, he was elected judge of the superior court for a term of 10 years and was re-elected in 1944 and 1954.

He holds honorary doctorates of laws from Pennsylvania Military College and Muhlenberg and is a member of Monroe County, Pennsylvania and American Bar Assns.

NYSE Admits Its Duties To Investors Who Lose

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange, in a revolutionary move for a stock or commodity market, Wednesday acknowledged it had moral responsibilities to investors who lose money because of fraudulent acts of members.

Keith Fuston, president, announced the exchange attitude in a statement accompanying expulsion of Anton E. Homsey.

Homsey, a member since 1943, is a partner in DuPont, Homsey & Co. of Boston. The exchange alleges he was guilty of various "fraudulent acts." A court-appointed receiver is determining the financial position of the firm.

Fuston said Homsey's expulsion was the first in 22 years because of "fraudulent acts which endangered a member firm's financial position." There have been other expulsions for fraud where the firm's financial position was endangered.

Customers do not lose money, however, unless the firm through which they are dealing has its financial position impaired.

Twenty-two years ago Richard Whitney, head of Richard Whitney & Co., was expelled from the exchange. Whitney had been exchange president and his expulsion, coming in the New Deal era of Franklin D. Roosevelt, hastened reforms in the securities business.

Whitney's firm failed and Whitney was sent to Sing Sing prison. But the exchange did not acknowledge it had any responsibility for losses of Whitney's customers totaling $5,662,000.

Homsey was a relatively obscure member compared with Whitney, but if the exchange assumes responsibility the Homsey case could become great historical significance.

Pocono Art Group Will Sponsor Show

THE FIRST Autumn Outdoor Show to be sponsored by the Pocono Mountains Art Group will be held all day on Saturday, October 8, on the grounds of the Methodist Church at Mountainhome.

Many members announced plans to exhibit at the meeting this week in the art room of Stroud Union High School. Exhibitors were instructed to bring easels, chairs and other necessary accessories.

The meeting opened with reports on plans and activities for the fall and winter. President Fitzgerald presided with Mrs. Jack Farley as corresponding secretary.

It was announced that classes for beginners and advanced students would be given by Edna Palmer Englehardt beginning Monday, October 3 at 7 p. m. The classes will be held every Monday through October and November from 7 to 10 p. m. Membership with the group, and a fee of $1 for each evening class attended is all that is required.

To Conduct Class

At the next regular meeting of the group on Tuesday, October 11, and on every other Tuesday night after that date, Rosalind Hickey, known professionally as "Arish," will conduct a class for interested young people, starting at the age of 14, starting at 7 p. m.

Paint Alone

Members not participating in Mrs. Hickey's class will paint by themselves in another part of the art room. Entrance on all lesson nights is by the northwest corner.

A banquet was planned for Tuesday, December 6. Named to the committee were Margaret Lovenberg, Ella Acker, James Smith and Stanley Smith.

Following the meeting, members painted in oils and water color from both still life and models. There were members present from Port Jervis, Easton, Hackensack, Brookheads, Snyder and Scranton as well as from the immediate area.

Motor Club Names Three As Directors

THREE directors who will represent the Pocono Mountains area on the newly formed Motor Club of Northeast Pennsylvania were named last night by the Pocono Mountains Motor Club.

John M. Crandall, of Mount Pocono, president of the local club, was named for a term expiring in February 1964; Clifford Cramer, of East Stroudsburg, vice president, for a term expiring in February 1963, and Henry Hoffman, of Brodheads-ville, for a term expiring in February 1962.

Merger of the Pocono Mountains and Lackawanna Motor Clubs to form the new Northeast Pennsylvania Club has been approved by members of both organizations and is scheduled to be approved next month by the Lackawanna County Court.

Present headquarters of the local club will continue to operate as a branch of the larger club with Mrs. Beverly Youngken as office manager.

Hiring of a field man to take on outside duties was postponed until next Spring. During the interim, a field man attached to the Scranton office will cover the local territory.

Allan Hunsinger, secretary-manager of the new club, said the design for the new emblem had been completed. It will read: "N. E. Penna. Motor Club, Pocono Mts. Branch" around the top and bottom of the oval-shaped insignia and "AAA" in the center.

The club approved the application of 62 persons for membership, raising the total to 3,569.

It was pointed out that the present board of governors will continue to serve in an advisory capacity. The next meeting will be held in November at the call of the president.

FIVE YEARS AGO, L. A. White built an addition to his home just west of Stroudsburg along Route 209. A double spruce tree which stood next to the house had to be cut down in the process and flooring placed over the 18-inch stump. Recently, White went to his basement and flashed a light into the crawl space under the addition. Growing on top of the tree stump was this unusual fungus growth, described as a hard, lacquer-like finish, light in weight and its color is between maroon and chocolate. White (pictured above) gave the specimen to Stroud Union High School science department.

N'fld Area Postmasters Urge Writing

NEWFOUNDLAND—It's time to write letters, according to area postmasters Clair L. Beeseker, Newfoundland; Estella Christman, South Sterling, and Robert Krieger, Greentown.

The 23rd annual Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in this area during the week of October 2 to 8.

The local postmasters note that there has been a revival of personal letter writing during the last few years, and point out that "a letter remains the most economical, longest lasting, and most sincere means of extending greetings.

At Least Two

During Letter Writing Week, they urge that individuals write at least two letters. One of these should go to a friend or relative from whom you have not heard in a long time. The other should be a reply to a friend or relative who recently wrote to you. And each postmaster has noted that correspondence to people in other countries is a means of promoting greater understanding among the people of different nations.

The slogan of this year's event, as indicated on more than 200,000 banners, is "Letters Are Links To Friendship." The display materials will appear on post office bulletin boards, and rural carrier vehicles, as well as in schools and libraries including Southern Wayne Joint School, Newfoundland.

Portland, Mt. Bethel GOP Meet

PORTLAND — The Republican Club of Portland and Upper Mount Bethel Township held a dinner meeting Monday night at Tuscarora Inn. Following the dinner a business meeting was held with Paul Hay, president, presiding.

Joseph Ide of Easton and Luther Ackerman of Stone Church were the speakers. Ide and Ackerman, both Republican candidates for seats in the State House of Representatives spoke of their plans and of their activities for the past few weeks.

Ragot Speaks

Henry Ragot, Northampton County Republican chairman and county commissioner, told the group that bits of information that do not usually receive publicity are vital to their voters in helping them to make their decision.

The club voted to give $100 to the County Finance Committee. A workshop will be held at the Village Barn in Portland at 8 p.m. on Oct. 11. Mrs. Milla Hartley, Mount Bethel, and Mrs. Beulah Jennings, East Bangor, were in charge of arrangements for the dinner.

Birth Control Law Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Civil Liberties Union has urged the Supreme Court to strike down Connecticut laws making it a crime to use birth control devices or for doctors to advise their use.

In a brief offered as a friend of the court, the ACLU contended the laws violate the due process clause of the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment.

The court will hear arguments on validity of the statutes some time during the winter. The laws have been challenged by two Connecticut married women.

The brief also said the Connecticut laws unreasonably interfere with the right of physicians to practice their profession.

Monroe Red Cross Office Ready To Receive 'Donna' Aid

THE Monroe County headquarters of the American Red Cross is ready to receive contributions for Donna Disaster relief in Florida, Mrs. Charles Mott, executive secretary announced yesterday.

"While Donna took less than 10 days to complete her rampage, the work of rehabilitation will take months and disaster relief, shelters and feeding stations are still operating to take care of those whose homes are as yet uninhabitable," she pointed out.

The Red Cross expects to expend approximately $3,500,000 to help families hit by Hurricane Donna. Surveys show more than 50,000 families along Donna's 3,000-mile path from Puerto Rico to New England suffered storm losses.

Florida Needs. The biggest Red Cross rehabilitation job will be in Florida where 5,000 families are expected to turn to the 40 newly-opened Red Cross disaster offices for recovery help. After Florida, the greatest number suffering losses are in Puerto Rico where nearly 5,000 families have already applied for Red Cross help. 2,000 storm-stricken families in the Carolinas are expected to require Red Cross aid. On the upper East Coast, it is anticipated that 800 families in Virginia, Maryland, and Rhode Island will need Red Cross disaster relief assistance.

Disaster contributions may be left or mailed to the local headquarters.

Patrolmen said they believe the officers were stationed at James T. Connolly Air Force Base near Waco, Tex. The tractor-trailer truck was going west, the patrol said. The truck driver, Gene Gill, 24, of Zanesville, was not injured, patrolmen said.

Crash Victims May Be AF Men

Who's Wild About World Series? Not Our Blase Younger Folks

By Eugene Gilbert
President, Gilbert Youth
Research Co.

THE 1960 MAJOR league baseball season has run its course. It's the time of the grand climax, the World Series. But only about half of the country's teen-agers seem much interested.

For only a little more than half of them — 56 per cent — still consider "the national pastime" to be America's No. 1 sport.

Forty per cent feel football or basketball have replaced, or at least rivaled, baseball in popularity while four per cent have no opinion.

The results of our poll of 985 teen-agers across the country shows a definite change in the attitude toward baseball from the time when every town of more than 30 people had a sandlot team and the telephone poles outside ballparks sprouted kids at game time.

This is today's picture: The sentiment of that grand old tune, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," appeals to a definite minority of the youngsters. Most would rather watch the games on television. Few play the game and fewer still play it in any organized league. But almost all of them approve of the Little League for their younger brothers.

Few Attend Regularly
Only 28 per cent of the teen-agers say they attend games regularly — 34 per cent of the boys and 23 per cent of the girls. In some cases there is a very good reason for not attending. "There's none to go to," says 16-year-old Richard Pierpont of Charleston, S.C.

But others simply show a lack of interest. "I do not enjoy watching a losing team," says Melvyn Friedman, 17 of Detroit, whose Tigers are mired in the American League's second division.

"Since the Dodgers moved away I have given up baseball," says Allan Ashear, 18, of Brooklyn, N.Y. And 16-year-old Michael Davis of Nashville, Tenn., says he has "no particular desire" to attend a baseball game.

Are Little League activities over-emphasized?

Fifty-two per cent of the youngsters say they watch baseball on television, and 49 per cent say they enjoy it just as much as going out to the ball park.

"You see the same thing on television," says Marvin Theodore R. Engelman, 18, of Charleston, S.C., says "it's more comfortable" to stay home.

But 17-year-old Sandra Speth of St. Louis disagrees. "There is more atmosphere and excitement when you are at the game," she says.

"I get a thrill out of yelling and wisecracking and being in a box seat," says Dennis Turner, 16, of Los Angeles.

Baseball is played by 24 per cent of the teen-agers we questioned — 39 per cent of the boys and nine per cent of the girls. Of the boys, 18 per cent never play it and 40 per cent say they play it very little.

Doubts on Little League
Charles Ungerleider, 17, of Miami Beach, says, "I'd rather play basketball or football." Lunn F. Wayne, 14, of Claremont, Calif., says he plays occasionally because "I am forced to at school."

Of the youngsters who play, 23 per cent of the boys and six per cent of the girls participate in regular league games. Only two per cent disapprove of the Little League, while 95 per cent favor it. The remainder have no opinion.

But some regard it with reservations.

It's a good thing, says 14-year-old Murray Ehrnpreis of Detroit, Mich., "if fathers would keep out of it more."

"Yes," says 18-year-old Gene Paul of Miami Beach, "provided it is kept a simple game and not a point for boasting on the parents part."

The youngsters who regard it favorably agree with Donald J. Boatright, 16, of Nashville, Tenn., that "it helps develop tomorrow's players." "It is an organized start to appreciating sports," says Sheryl Cummings, 15, of Vermillion, S.D.

Those who disapprove feel parents put too much emphasis on it or, as 17-year-old Larry Fisher of Brooklyn says, "the tension is too great for the kids."

Announcing the 1961 Ford...
Beautifully proportioned to the

CLASSIC FORD LOOK

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you... and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. It cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford... beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look... beautifully built to take care of itself.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.

CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.

GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford

mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Green Thumb 'Ripen' Off Time To Dig Glad Bulbs

By George Abraham
DIGGING GLADS — When is the best time to dig gladiolus bulbs? For years we've been digging them when the foliage starts to turn yellow, or when they "ripen" off. Now it is believed by many that yellowing of the foliage in fall is a sign of disease, such as botrytis or fusarium. One glad grower I know who raises 50 acres tells me that he digs his bulbs when the stem is "green as grass," and that the old yellowed-foliage theory is no longer valid. If yours bloom late, dig them anytime before hard freezing.

Bulbs are ready to dig in four weeks after blooming. If the fall has heavy rains, dews, cool temperatures often favor botrytis, a disease which causes water spots on blooms and which often rots the bulbs. If you've been having this problem it's best to dig bulbs early and cure them as quickly as possible, preferably using heat to dry them.

In digging, simply loosen the soil with a fork, pull up the plants by the top and cut off the tops with a pair of pruning shears, making the cut tight to the bulb. No need to leave part of the stem on. Place the bulbs in a shallow box or tray and dust them with DDT.

I like to leave my bulbs in the sun for a couple of days so they can dry out before storing. More and more growers are "quick-drying" their bulbs, using heat and electric fans to remove the surplus moisture out of the bulbs and husks. Much of the trouble with glads can be avoided by quick curing.

In about three weeks the old bulb (glad bulbs dry up and disintegrate the first season) comes off easily. That's the time to clean them as later the old bulbs get dried on and are hard to remove. Do not remove the husk from the bulb, as it protects from drying. Toss out all bulbs showing any sign of disease.

A fair rule of thumb for digging a hole is to make it two feet wider and eight inches deeper than the ball of earth. Place ball of earth in so that the top is one inch below the ground level. Do not cut the string. Fill top soil (mixed with peat) around the ball to within four inches of top and pack firmly with your foot. Water the tree well to expel air pockets and settle the soil. Fill hole to within an inch from top, leaving a saucer-like depression in soil ground base of the evergreen to hold moisture. Water newly transplanted evergreens twice a week during dry weather or even wet weather, because rain does not supply enough moisture to soak the ball. YOU CANNOT DEPEND ON RAIN TO MEET THE NEEDS OF NEWLY-SET EVERGREENS!

A lack of moisture, all nurserymen agree, is one of the main reasons why evergreens do not come through. Never pile soil around the base of an evergreen as it sheds water away from the plant. A mulch of peat, sawdust, manure, shavings, compost, buckwheat hulls, etc. is always welcome and can be a life-saver to your plant.

Question Box

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: G. D., of Stroudsburg: "I have some nice tuberous begonias in the garden and would like to carry them over for another year. Please tell me when I should lift them."

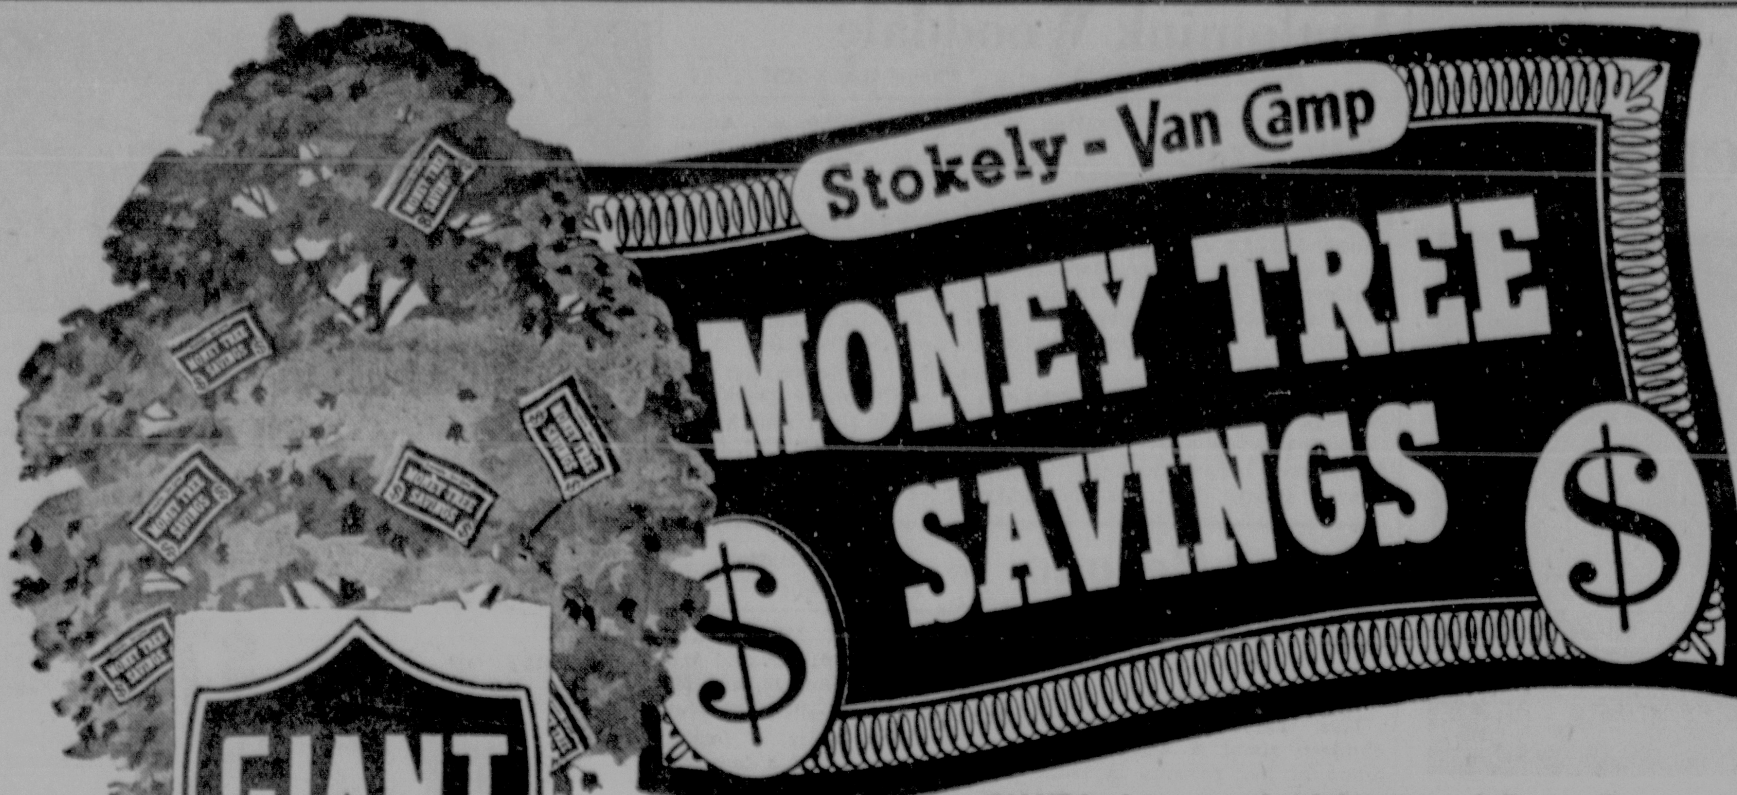

You should try to lift them before a killing frost hits. A light frost that nips the foliage will not harm the tubers. Dry them off by withholding water, dig them up and spread them out in flat boxes, allowing the soil to stick to the roots. Leave in a sunny spot and allow to ripen off. After stems and leaves have withered, clean them off, dust with sulfur and store them in open flats in a cool dry place.

Some gardeners store their bulbs in plastic bags and they keep well. Make sure they're dry before storing or they may rot.

Don't try to force your tubers again indoors, after growing in the garden all summer. They need a winter's rest. Tuberous-rooted begonias seldom "run-out" as is commonly believed. If you've got plants which failed to flower, save the tubers. Lack of blooming is due to heavy soils, lack of fertility, too much shade or lack of moisture.

Falling of buds before they mature is a sign of insufficient moisture, rather than disease. Abundant growth with little or no flowers is the result of too heavy shade. Curled and shiny foliage is a sign of too strong an exposure to the sun.

Incidentally, did you know you can propagate tuberous begonias by seed, rooting cuttings from young growth, or by cutting the tuber pieces? If you want to start them by cutting the tuber, wait until spring, just after growth has started so you'll be sure to have a growing sprout on each piece of tuber.

Two Stroud Union Students Gain National Honors

PRINCIPAL Alfred W. Munson of Stroud Union High School announced today (Wednesday, September 28) that two of the school's students have been named semifinalists in the 1960-61 National Merit Scholarship competition. They are Mary L. Lilius and Charles P. Eyer.

These semifinalists are among the 10,000 high scoring students on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, a test of educational development given in more than 15,000 high schools last spring. The Semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in United States territories.

Each semifinalist now moves a step closer to winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to the college of his choice.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the annual program, stated that "Merit Semifinalists represent the most promising brains in the nation. From this group of able, attractive students will come the scholars and intellectual leaders of tomorrow."

Stalnaker warned against comparing schools on the basis of the number of semifinalists in each.

"The awards are given to students," he emphasized.

"Several factors combine to make a winner. While good schooling is one such factor, it is not the only one. Parents, friends, and the community all play an important part.

"Comparing schools on the single yardstick of the number of semifinalists in each school can lead to unfair and unwarranted conclusions.

"The development of talent is a complex matter. Regardless of how talent is produced, we must recognize it and encourage its further development."

The semifinalists will take another rigorous examination, the three-hour Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, to be given in testing centers throughout the nation on December 3, 1960.

Students whose scores on the second test substantiate their performance on the qualifying test and who are endorsed by their high schools will become Finalists in the competition. In past years, more than 95 per cent of the semifinalists have become finalists.

As finalists, the students will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by 115 business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, individuals, and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself.

In the final phase of the competition, the high school grades, extra-curricular activities, school citizenship, and leadership qualities of the students will be evaluated along with their scores on the tests.

About May 1, 1961, the names of the Merit Scholars will be announced, the exact number depending on the extent of sponsor support of the Merit program.

All finalists will receive Certificates of Merit attesting to their high ability and all colleges and universities will be informed of their names. This enables these students to be considered for a wide range of other awards. Studies show that more than 50 per cent obtain scholarship assistance from other sources.

SCHOLARSHIP SEMI-FINALISTS—Charles P. Eyer and Mary L. Lilius are semi-finalists at Stroud Union High School in the 1960-61 National Merit Scholarship competition. They are among 10,000 high scorers throughout the country in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Dear Abby

Short And Snappy

Dear Abby: I just received a letter from my sister telling me her son is marrying a high-class girl in November and a formal wedding invitation will follow. We have a brother, Charlie, who lives on a farm. Charlie's wife works the soil and runs the tractor like a man. She is a good woman but she doesn't go to beauty parlors and keep herself up like some women who have more time.

My sister said she was counting on me to see to it that Charlie gets a haircut for the wedding and his wife washes herself up real good and dresses right. I am no good at getting so personal with people. How can I handle this?

Dear City Sister: Write your sister and tell her if she wants to be sure all the relatives clean up for her wedding she should do her own dirty work.

Two Collide Near Fernbrook

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Two cars collided on Route 309 near Fernbrook early yesterday, killing a 19-year-old Detroit, Mich. soldier who had been visiting friends here.

The victim was Ronald P. Wrubel, a passenger in a car driven by William R. Mathers, Jr., 21, Trucksville, Luzerne County. Mathers and another person in the car, Malcolm Bruges, 19, Dallas, were hurt.

The other driver was Raymond Mathers, 19, of Shavertown.

CONCERNED

Dear Concerned: If your daughter had stayed out until 5:30 a.m. with a fellow she met at a dance, wouldn't you want to know? "Do unto others..."

Dear Abby: Before my wife and I were married she was the most affectionate little thing in the world. We have been married only two years and now every time I go to kiss her she tells me I need a shave. What do you think is the matter with her?

NEEDS LOVE

Dear Needs: The matter with her? Maybe you just need a shave.

Dear Abby: I read the letter in your column from the mother who was tired of picking up after her 18-year-old daughter who kept her room a mess. You told her to quit nagging the girl about it, to close the door to her bedroom and let her wade around in the mess until it became so hopelessly inconvenient that the girl would decide to clean it up herself. Having the identical problem myself, I followed your advice, Abby. I could kiss you! After living in complete disorder for six weeks, my daughter "lost" two shoes (unrelated), four belts, three sweaters, a book and her good evening purse. I went into my room and laughed until I cried because she spent all day Saturday cleaning up her room. Thanks a million.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Am I down-hearted? I sure am. Shopping for a hat, which to some women is as invigorating as a shot of B-12 or a weekend at the shore, is just plain discouraging to me.

In the first place it involves looking in too many mirrors with a critical eye to the shape of the face, the hair, and the height — none of which are what I would have ordered if I had a choice. And in the second place, this year's hats were definitely designed for beautiful, tall women who don't wear glasses.

They were beautiful hats — fluffy as rabbits or feathered like peacocks—but somehow they succeeded in making me look like a load under an extraordinary large towelstool or a horse wearing a pot.

"All you need is courage," the milliner assured me as I stood drooping forlornly under one monumental number. I need a whole lot more than that — about 20 more pounds, six more inches, and a new head, that's all.

I also need a new hat—after the new hats, my old ones which I'd worn with such confidence last winter—and the winter before that and—well, anyway, for a good long time—had turned against me too.

They're so flat on top that I looked squashed before I even start, which is no way to tackle the month of October with its occupational hazards of several hundred women's clubs' luncheons.

Well, I'll comb my hair, put on fresh lipstick and try again. If I don't succeed I'll make my own headgear: a paper bag, tied around the neck, with slits in it.

Sisters Mark Birthdays At Combined Party

Delaware Water Gap—Debra Miller had a fourth birthday on September 11, Charlene Miller had a sixth on September 26, so their birthday parties were held on Saturday afternoon, September 17, at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Roscoe Shellenberger, and of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Miller.

It was an outdoor party for games and then three birthday cakes and other refreshments were served to the little guests on the porch of the hostess' home.

Enjoying all this were Joey Ruttman, Joey and Jeff Keiper, Donna and Elsa DeCarno, Ricky and Randy Snow, Justine and Marty Bartholomew, Bruce Davis, Bonnie Smolak, Donna Lehr, Cindy Carlton, Roxanne and Gwendolyn Keiser, Ricky Sutton, Herbie Jennings, Ricky Shoemaker, Ora Geshensky, James Anthony IV, all of Delaware Water Gap, Dottie and Donna Smith of East Stroudsburg; Donna, John and Emily Green, and their mother, Mrs. Lois Green (an aunt of Debbie and Charlene) of Tannersville; Mrs. Roscoe Shellenberger, and Mrs. Ben. Miller.

Grace Ann and Chippie Bush were invited guests unable to come.

Diet Dishes Can Please The Gourmet Too With Fish

Women with trim figures often use neat kitchen tricks to keep calories low and yet produce delicious food.

One piece of strategy or not they are weight watchers: baked fish stuffed with a savory low-calorie vegetable concoction.

Perhaps this combination tastes so good because it wasn't evolved for dieters. European cooks have used this method for ages. Recently our Italian-American fish dealer, who knows good food and enjoys giving a little culinary advice, reminded us of it.

He advised us to wilt the vegetables in a little butter before using them to stuff the fish. We have experimented and find that if you like vegetables crisp and want to use very little butter, you may omit this first cooking. However, we have to admit that the classic method of cooking the vegetables first, as directed in the following recipe, produces an extra — delicious stuffing and a small amount of delectable pan sauce.

When it comes to dessert, cooks with low calories on their minds often add a surprise to a simple fruit offering. We like to mix slivers of preserved or candied ginger with orange sections or pineapple chunks. Makes you think you are eating something exotic, especially if

Father Meets Son In Tech-Florida Grid Game

ATLANTA (AP)—Coach Bobby Dodd and his Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets will stage a football duel at Gainesville, Fla., Saturday with quarterback Bobby Dodd Jr. and the Florida Gators.

Do Dodd the coach and Dodd the father feel the same way about the Southeastern Conference game?

"They certainly do," the Tech boss declared Wednesday. "I don't ever want to lose to anybody in a football game."

Dodd said his wife, Alice, gave the best answer when questioned about the battle of unbeaten that features her son playing against her husband's team.

"I hope Bobby Jr. has a fine day, and I hope Tech beats the devil out of them," Mrs. Dodd replied.

Jensen To Play Again

Williams Blasts Homer
Then Quits Baseball

By BOB HOORING
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, master of drama to the last, answered a thunderous ovation with a 450-foot home run Wednesday, then announced his immediate retirement.

Previously the 42-year-old Boston slugger had been expected to finish out the season on the road in a weekend series at New York. "I'm convinced I've quit at the right time," said Williams in the dressing room.

When "Old No. 9" walked to the plate in the eighth inning, the crowd cheered him for a minute and a half. Then he stepped in and lashed the ball over the bullpen in right center. For another three minutes, the fans roared. "We want Ted!"

Trails Fox
His 521st homer left him 13 behind second-place Jimmy Fox among baseball's homer hitters. A bareheaded, nervous Williams spoke his goodbyes to Fenway Park—site of his historic batting feats—before the 5-4 win over Baltimore.

A crowd of nearly 10,000 braved fog, muck and a threat of rain in a farewell tribute. The all-time star is signing off with a .345 lifetime batting average and a repu-tion as the game's top student at bat.

In a crowded home plate scene, Williams took a minute trying to be heard over the uproar, then said: "Despite the many disagreeable things said about me by the 'knights of the keyboard' (pointing to the press box) and I can't help thinking about them—despite these things my stay in Boston has been the most wonderful thing in my life."

Receives Gifts
During the introductory remarks and presentations which included $1,000 for Williams' favorite charity (the Jimmy Fund for children's cancer research), Williams kept his head bowed, crushing his cap in his hands.

While the fans stood during the 15-minute pregame testimonial, Williams appeared fidgety until he took his brief turn at the microphone.

Will Miss It
Owner Tom Yawkey recently made Williams' retirement official, announcing Ted will be a batting instructor at the 1961 spring training camp and will then assume duties best suited to his talents in the Red Sox organization.

Before his last appearance as a player, Williams was asked if he felt any regret.

"Sure I'll miss it but all good things must come to an end."

"Baseball has been good to me over the years and I'll be forever grateful. But the end had to come. I've been lucky to play as much of this as I have. I have no intention of stretching my luck any further."

Minutes before the Williams tribute, ex-Sox RBI specialist Jackie Jensen announced he will come out of retirement.

Jensen said he was quitting a year ago and reaffirmed it when the Sox tried to get him to reconsider this spring.

Trades Won

For Pirates

Says Brown

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Six players traded by Pittsburgh General Manager Joe L. Brown, bringing such key players as Don Hoak, Smokey Burgess, Harvey Haddix, Hal Smith, Billy Virdon, Gino Cimoli, Dick Schofield and (Vinegar Bend) Mizell are largely responsible for the Pirates' 1960 success story.

However, a trade on which he reneged at the last minute, Brown readily admitted Wednesday, had as much to do with the Pirates' winning the National League pennant as those he consummated.

The central figure in the trade was Dick Groat, the captain and shortstop of the Pirates who is generally accepted as one of the leading candidates for player of the year honors.

It was during the 1959 major league winter meetings in Miami, Brown, seeking outfield strength, had learned that Roger Maris of the Kansas City Athletics was available. The A's needed a shortstop and were interested in Groat. This was, of course, before they dealt Maris to New York.

Package Deal
Brown offered a package deal for Maris with Groat the central figure. The A's indicated agreement but asked Brown and Pirate Manager Danny Murtagh to step out of the room.

They wanted a few moments of final deliberation, privately. "Danny and I went out into the hallway and I noticed he wasn't looking so good," Brown recalled. "I asked him what was wrong. 'I'm not so sure I want to trade Groat,' Danny said. 'He's the guy who's been holding us together.'"

"I had been thinking the same thing so I said, 'Well, then, we won't make the deal.' I called Johnson's suite and told him the deal was off. "I realize Maris has had a fine year with the Yankees but there is no way of knowing whether he would have hit as well with us or whether Dick Schofield would have been able to fill the shoes of Groat at shortstop. Groat has played a tremendous part in our team victory."

Mantle Belts Two Homers
As N. Y. Wins 12th Straight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mickey Mantle slammed two home runs to edge ahead in the American League home race Wednesday night and help New York to a 6-3 victory over Washington.

Mantle's two-run blast in the first inning was his 39th of the season and his fifth-inning solo blow into the same area was No. 40. That put him one up on teammate Roger Maris.

Clete Boyer had socked a two-run homer earlier in the fifth. The bleacher bombardment off starter and loser Chuck Stobbs led the pennant winners to their 12th straight triumph, their longest winning string since 1953.

Ford Wins
Whitely Ford, in probably his last appearance before the World Series, gave up two runs—on unearned—in his five innings of work. He was credited with the victory, his 12th of the season.

Clark Picks 18 Winners, Two Losers

CITY EDITOR Bob Clark picked 18 winners in 23 games with three ties in last week's Guess-Perf selection to increase his first place lead.

Clark missed only the Delaware-Lehigh and Maryland-Texas games. He had a two-week percentage of .756, six points ahead of Don Allen, who did not participate in the first week's selection.

Allen had 15 correct selections for the week, as did Curt Prins, Jim Shaffer, Bobby Westbrook and Tony Cesare. Jack Hill picked 16 winners and moved into a three-way tie for third place with Shaffer and Westbrook. Rod MacLeod, who thought he foresaw a host of upsets, had 13 winners.

Correct Consensus
The consensus had 17 winners and one even selection and boasts a .700 average for two weeks, with 28 winners and 12 losers.

The consensus picked all four local games correctly. Four of the selectors also had all the local games in the win column and Allen was the only picker to miss two local games. He went with Catawauqua over Bangor and Kutztown over ESSC.

For the first time in three games, ESSC is not favored. Seven of the board of guessers go with West Chester and only Prins leans toward the Warriors. East Stroudsburg High is a seven-pick favorite over Bangor, with Cesare liking Bangor.

Palmerton Favored
Palmerton gets all the votes but Westbrook's in its Stroud Union struggle and Pen Argyl and Catawauqua are rated even. The Big 10 begins its intraleague head knocking this week and the selectors are some mid-west selection with "tongue in cheek."

Penn State and Pitt are both strong favorites, as is Syracuse, Navy, Minnesota, Notre Dame, LSU, Air Force and Tennessee.

With few upsets last week,

Prins has made a 23-games selection that must be loaded with upsets this week to payoff. Prins picks Missouri over Penn State, Indiana over Minnesota and Stanford to beat Air Force.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more...the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models in the '61 fleet—lower priced, long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive trucks—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on actual owner reports) that Chevrolet's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options, the works. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around your Chevrolet dealer's block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

Whip this Fleetside over a rutted road and find out what torsion springs are all about!

3-2 To Ithaca

Warrior Booters Lose On Goal In Second Overtime

EAST STROUDSBURG State College soccer team lost 3-2 to Ithaca College in a two period overtime game on Normal Hill yesterday. It was the first game of the season for both teams.

Ithaca's first goal was scored from about thirty yards out with a looping kick. The Warrior's goalie attempted to deflect the kick with his fists but apparently misjudged the ball and missed.

The second Ithaca score was a pass across the goal and a straight shot into the net. Both goals were made in the first quarter.

The Warriors scored once in the second period and once in the third.

Winning Goal
Joe Zidbro, Ithaca's left forward, scored the winning goal in the second extra period, with a hook shot. He dribbled the ball at an angle in front of the goal and fired.

Karl Dickel scored the first goal for the ESSC booters and Ernie Howe, scored the second goal.

Howe, an All-American in 1959, returned to the outside right position he played the year he was named to the All-American team.

He was a center forward last year.

Sebastian, charged with bribery, is accused of trying to talk Fridley and Falsenski into shaving points so he could win bets.

Fridley, who averaged 12.25 points a game last season, told the court that Sebastian talked to him several times last December and finally offered him 50 per cent of the winnings on fixed games, a new car at half price, a $1,000 diamond ring for $500 and a guarantee that he would be admitted to dental school.

Falsenski said he and his father told Basketball Coach Bob Timmons about the offer.

Timmons testified that he informed university officials who notified the district attorney's office.

Fridley said that in one of his first meetings with Sebastian they rode around Pittsburgh in the doctor's car.

"He talked about athletes getting extra money," Fridley said. "He didn't actually say, 'Will you shave points?' After talking all about it he said 'Do you think you could do it?' At that point I got leery. I knew what he was driving at. I just listened and didn't commit myself."

Sebastian is scheduled to testify Thursday. Seven character witnesses testified in his behalf Wednesday.

Making It Legal
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Members of Pittsburgh's city council opened their meeting Monday by praising the Pirates for bringing home the National League pennant.

Then the councilmen got down to business and unanimously passed a new city ordinance.

It read: "Beat Them Yanks!"

U. S. Hold Huge Edge In Amateur World Golf

ARMORE, Pa. (AP)—Power-hitting Jack Nicklaus ripped the feared Merion Estate course apart for a record 66 Wednesday and sent the United States into a huge lead in the first round of the second World Amateur Team Golf Championships.

The 66 by the husky, 20-year-old Ohio State junior clipped one stroke off Merion's amateur record set in 1924. It followed a pair of one-over-par 71s by Bob Gardner of New York and Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia and gave the U.S. team a first-round total of 208.

No other team among the 32 entered in this world wide competition was even close.

The Daily Investor

Mutual Fund Investments

By William A. Doyle
Q. I met a broker who wants to sell me shares of a mutual fund. I was very interested until he announced that I would have to invest at least $10,000. I don't have even $1,000 (much less $10,000) to invest. Are mutual funds only for rich people? How can little people buy mutual fund shares?
A. No, mutual funds are intended exclusively for rich people. Even though many wealthy people do own mutual funds shares, funds are generally considered to be intended for small investors. Most mutual funds make a special pitch for people who don't have a big bundle. Some funds do not have a minimum amount that they will accept as investments from new shareholders. But I have not been able to find any insisting on an initial investment of $10,000. More and more mutual funds have set up accumulation plans, through which investors may buy shares by putting in small sums each month—in some cases as little as $25 a month. There are about 300 mutual funds in this country. Any competent broker should be able to pick one suited for your needs. Your problem is to find a broker. The best bet is to pick one who advertises in the newspaper. Or, you might ask your bank to recommend a broker to you.

Q. I buy stocks on margin. My broker charges me money on the money I borrow from him to help finance my purchases. How is the interest rate on the money I owe the broker figured out?
A. The broker will charge you at least 0.5 percent more than the interest rate at which the broker borrows money. The interest rate you will be charged on your "net debit balance" will never be less than 0.5 percent more than the broker's cost of raising money. It may be more. How much more will depend on the policy of the brokerage house and how good a customer you are.

Q. May the brokerage firm with which I have a margin account change the interest rate charged on my net debit balance without asking my permission or, at least, advising me before the new rate becomes effective?
A. Yes. But, as a matter of sensible business practice, many brokerage firms do inform their customers of impending changes in the rate.
Q. If I return to the land of my birth after I retire, will I be able to make arrangements for the interest checks on my Series K, U.S. savings bonds and on my registered U.S. Treasury bonds and notes to be mailed to me there?
A. Yes. Write to the U.S. Treasury Department, Washington, D.C., or to your nearest Federal Reserve District bank for a change of address form. (Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Liquor Board Suspensions

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Liquor Control Board yesterday suspended, effective Oct. 18, for the reasons cited, licenses in these counties:
Carbon — Veterans Memorial Home Association of Weatherly, Weatherly, 20 days and thereafter until conditions have been corrected; by-laws do not meet requirements of liquor code in that they provide for admission of active members without investigation; failed to adhere to its by-laws; persons admitted to membership without written application, investigation and ballot; failed to hold regular meetings; failed to maintain records in conformity with board regulations.
Lackawanna—Walter S. Wojdak and Ann J. Wojdak, Walter S. and Ann J. Wojdak Restaurant, (1324 Prospect Ave.), Scranton, 15 days, sales on Sunday.

Reds 'Thumping' Question Mark

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Communists joined in thumping their desks with their fists in the General Assembly yesterday and left delegates a bit mystified. What did it mean? The Russians and their satellite associates were laughing uproariously as they used the table-thumping method to register their reaction to a brief address by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld. It looked like some sort of Khrushchev joke, since he, laughing merrily, led the show. When reporters asked Khrushchev what the thumping meant he said it was supposed to indicate a "protest." Most observers leaned to the view that Khrushchev had intended it to be a derisive, mocking sort of disapproval.

Saroyan Abroad

MOSCOW (AP)—William Saroyan, the American playwright and novelist, has paid an eight-day visit to Soviet Armenia. Saroyan, of Armenian ancestry, was quoted in Tass, the Soviet news agency, as saying he admired the economic and cultural progress of the country.

Jury Indicts Minister

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A grand jury yesterday indicted Rev. W. L. King of nearby Finleyville, on a charge of criminal libel. The Rev. Mr. King of the Voice of the Nazarene Bible Church was charged with criminal libel by the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic laymen's organization. He is accused of printing, publishing and circulating a false oath he attributed to the Knights of Columbus. No date has been set for the trial.
